

HUMAN TRAFFICKING FOR TELECOMMUNICATORS

This specialized course is tailored for Telecommunicators, providing them with an in-depth understanding of the responsibilities associated with handling human trafficking calls. It also trains them on the proper methods for documenting such calls. Furthermore, the course explores the various types of human trafficking and teaches participants how to identify trafficking signs during phone interviews. By the conclusion of the course, students will have enhanced capabilities to recognize and address human trafficking cases, along with knowledge of the relevant contacts to engage with.
